Building Enterprise Marketing Sites @ Framer
Ashland, Oregon, United States

Summary

Currently leading GTM Partnerships for Framer in the US. I work to match our clients with the best freelance designers, studios, and agencies to get their websites launched in Framer.

I come with 10 years of experience in B2B SaaS sales and leading product marketing teams across start-ups and large enterprises. I have a proven track record of turning highly technical products into compelling stories that drive revenue, adoption, and business growth.

I'm comfortable in front of customers + prospects, eager to gather insights, and then advocate for the needs of the market. Whether launching new features, repositioning a brand, or enabling teams across the funnel, I bring energy, clarity, and a bias for action. I'm passionate about building high-trust teams, shaping product narratives, and helping customers solve problems.

RR Donnelley

Project Manager, Strategic Programs

August 2013 - July 2014 (1 year)

Primary management responsibilities have been to lead the project team by creating clear objectives, establishing the project requirements, manage material, equipment and human resources, identify risks, communicate to stakeholders and create a timeline. I balance quality, time and cost to implement the best possible final product. This is a customer facing position where acting as the voice of the customer to manage bringing on new clients, products or both in addition to internal initiations supporting the implementation of new digital technologies and services for a Fortune 500 company. Versed in PM methodology- Initiation, Planning, Execution (Monitor & Control) and Closure.

•Supervised cross-departmental teams to implement unique “web-2-print” customer store front portals, which support online ordering directly from the end consumer in both B2B and B2C scenarios.

•Managed the global disposition of a multi-million dollar program for a Fortune 6 customer, which spanned from the United States to Eastern Europe. This included material and equipment coordination for destruction, re-proposing and shipping.

•Supervised the planning, testing and launch of strategic program customers-experienced operating in highly ambiguous and fast paced manufacturing environments. Familiar with adjusting project goals, accounting for scope creep, evolving timelines and technology limitations while leveraging limited resources.

•Lead a technology team to design, construct and implement a robust order management production system, which has been customized for our production facilities.

•Directed cross-functional teams and drove project deliverables working directly with IT, Finance, Supply Chain, Operations, program management and Quality departments to on board new strategic clients and or new product lines.

•Product and production research & development, public speaking, presentations, excel data analysis and workflow improvements.

Consolidated Graphics
Leadership Development Associate

June 2012 - June 2014 (2 years 1 month)

The Consolidated Graphics Leadership Development Program is a very hands on 2 year management training program that allows individuals to drive the company's core competencies. Starting in production, I have learned the business from the ground up working my way through operations, management, finance, and sales.

• Managed a team of 15 who produced 800,000+ bound booklets over a 3 month duration using a 40,000 sq ft production bindery furnished with $2 million+ of equipment.

• Through a company improvement plan, was able to save $93,000 annually. This included data analysis, cross departmental coordination and work flow implementation.

• Provided customer facing production reports for a Fortune 6 customer (Forbes 2013) twice daily during our busiest seasonal production cycle. This included working with our own digital production system to pull raw data sets and then sync them into a single excel document for daily presentations.

• Supervised and trained quality control and shipping lead employees.

• 2013 Company Volunteer Coordinator responsible for 9 different volunteer events equal to 24+ hours of community service and a successful 200+ item food drive.
