Mediation and Arbitration
Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada

Summary

I practice as an arbitrator and mediator concentrating on complex commercial disputes. I spent over 35 years as a commercial litigation lawyer and as a result am acutely aware of the intricacies of commercial litigation disputes. That experience has enabled me to bring a helpful perspective in assisting parties to resolve their differences in mediation disputes as well as appreciate the nuances of the litigation that presents in arbitrations.
I have mediated dozens and dozens of disputes over the full range of commercial law from real estate to IP to M and A transactions and the full range in between. I have arbitrated numerous disputes from business sales disputes to licensing and IP matters to contract disputes.
My approach in both roles is to ensure that the process is effective , responsive to the parties and the specifics of the dispute and especially appreciative of the analytical legal elements underlying each dispute.
