Aidan Steinbach

Banker at Erebor

San Francisco, California, United States

Summary

I love building and selling things. I’m just as energized at a hackathon as I am working through a complex deal.I’ve worked across early-stage startups as an operator, consultant, and angel investor, with a focus on turning ideas into real products and real revenue. I’m especially drawn to roles that sit at the intersection of technology, finance, and go-to-market strategy.Outside of work, I love cooking, investing, and diving deep into financial data. I also have a very good dog.I write occasionally about the things I’m building, investing in, and thinking about on Substackhttps://aidansteinbach.substack.com

Elon University - Martha and Spencer Love School of Business
2 years 8 months

Lead Scholar Intern
October 2021 - July 2023 (1 year 10 months)

As the lead scholar intern I managed 14 different interns across various departments including marketing, growth, black entrepreneurship, and workshops. I personally spearheaded our growth and partnerships initiatives as well.

Under my leadership, we saw significant revenue increases across the board as well as a much more efficient team.

This role taught me an exceptional amount about project management and strategy.

Marketplace Intern
December 2020 - October 2021 (11 months)

Managed 2 other interns while running an organization that assisted and organized all student businesses on campus. In this role I performed many duties that required both project management and marketing skills.
Under my leadership we saw significant growth in partnerships, revenue, and membership.

Elon University
Leadership Fellow
April 2019 - July 2023 (4 years 4 months)

•Received an additional scholarship in addition to the base scholarship
•Selected as a member of the Cannon Committee, which helps run the fellows program and fellow's weekend

Steinbach Lifestyle Solutions, LLC
CEO & Founder
July 2021 - May 2023 (1 year 11 months)
United States

I founded and ran a personal training and nutrition company that I scaled from a couple clients to over 100.

I learned how to build my own book of business from scratch, create out-bounding sequences and close deals to gain clients.

This also gave me a tremendous amount of digital marketing, pipeline generation, and general business knowledge.

Corning Incorporated
Marketing Intern
May 2022 - August 2022 (4 months)
Charlotte, North Carolina, United States

Highlights: Designed and produced 15+ websites, worked on special projects, used data from Google analytics to make marketing strategy decisions, used Google analytics, Adobe Experience Manager (AEM), Marketo, and the office suite.

Website work: During this internship I analyzed the customer buying journey on our web properties to define, develop, and implement a content plan to optimize engagement and conversion to prospects (leads)

Working with a Content Marketing Plan: I developed and executed content marketing plans to drive key campaign themes to result in increased engagement and conversion.

Use of Reporting/Analytics: Reviewed current data and analytics, research industry best practices and made recommendations on how to make improvements to our digital buying journey.

Using Social Media and E-mail Marketing: Developed and deployed nurturing campaigns targeting engaged customers with the intent of generating demand for our offerings.

Working on special Projects: Contributed to and support additional strategic marketing initiatives as they emerged.
