Summary

Brian MacCarthy is a seasoned venture investor and innovation leader who founded and leads Booz Allen Ventures, the corporate venture capital arm of Booz Allen Hamilton. At Booz Allen Ventures, Brian invests in early-stage technology companies and accelerates them into high-impact federal missions. His work exemplifies a new model of venture capital that purposefully aligns venture discipline with mission-driven delivery – supporting founding teams build for, sell to, and navigate the federal market.

Built and expanded Booz Allen Ventures with an initial $100M capital commitment in 2022 that was upsized in 2025 by $200M. Booz Allen Ventures is now a $300M investment engine – a three-fold increase in the fund size that signals confidence in the power of early-stage technology startups to advance critical national missions.

Under Brian's leadership, the venture arm has invested in 18 companies (including Shield AI) since its 2022 launch, with expectations to make 20–25 new investments over the next five years across AI, cyber, defense tech, quantum computing, space, and reindustrialization.

The Booz Allen Ventures portfolio includes standout innovators like Firestorm Labs, Second Front Systems, Scout AI, Albedo, Shift5, Hidden Level, Quindar, Reveal Technology, and others — that are advancing autonomy, streamlining government workflows, delivering new capabilities to the Warfighter, and building next-generation infrastructure for space.
