Ray Kennedy

Prototype Manager @ Shield AI
Commerce, Texas, United States

Summary

Since joining Shield AI, our team has elevated production management to new heights, consistently meeting and surpassing operational targets. As a Production Manager, with a tenure that extends over three years, I've honed my expertise in managing production operations and schedules, ensuring the seamless delivery of our products. Prior to this role, I contributed significantly as a Production Supervisor, where I cultivated the skills now critical to my current position. A strong proponent of efficiency, I orchestrate the production floor with a focus on excellence, leveraging my experience to drive the company's success in a highly competitive tech industry.
