Zusammenfassung

I’m a Social Scientist and HR Analyst turned Ethical Tech Consultant. I am passionate about the intersection of AI, technology, and human behavior and how to translate difficult topics to to the broader audience.

With a background in Sociology, Political Science, and HR, I’ve developed a strong foundation in data analysis, user-centered design, and strategic thinking. As a co-founder of SheLeadsProduct.tech, I actively foster communities that empower women in tech and product management.

Currently, I’m expanding my expertise through an MBA in Business Strategy & Digital Transformation, alongside hands-on projects in AI ethics, bias mitigation, and ethical AI frameworks.

Interests: Ethical AI, Product Strategy, Digital Innovation, Diversity in Tech

Berufserfahrung

Relief Applications

Business Development Officer

Mai 2025 - Present (3 Monate)

At the intersection of technology and impact, I leverage my expertise in digital innovation and strategic communication to drive product-focused growth within global humanitarian and development sectors. At Relief Applications, I translate complex technical solutions into clear, compelling narratives, aligning user needs, strategic objectives, and donor interests to create impactful, agile-aligned product roadmaps. Collaborating closely with engineering, design teams and partner organizations, I shape innovative yet practical digital solutions that meet stakeholder requirements and secure funding. Additionally, I optimize internal workflows, support comprehensive solution design, and champion a robust knowledge base to ensure consistency, efficiency, and continuous improvement.
