Summary

I am a strategist with 20 years of experience helping global tech companies—including Amazon, Xerox, and Raytheon— credibly and authentically position their brand, leaders, and product portfolio. My expertise originated in communications and public affairs, and expanded with roles driving marketing, channel partner, and transformation initiatives. I believe in taking a human first approach to build high-performing teams and content ecosystems that deliver long-term company value.

O3 Global Strategies LLC

CEO & Advisor - Brand Strategy, Market Growth, & Communications

I founded O3 Global Strategies on a simple belief: increased activity doesn't equal ROI or business impact. In today's fast-moving environment, brands that excel are the ones that communicate with intention — choosing focus over noise, and clarity over clutter. I partner with senior leaders to strengthen positioning, optimize go-to-market strategies, enhance reputation, and deliver long-term brand equity.
