Summary

Hi I’m Steve.  Steven if I’m in trouble.

People are the most important thing to me.

Currently I have the pleasure of working with SMB and Mid Market Organizations with the goal of partnering with them to first understand where technology  intersects with their  business now and then to Strategically advise and road map with them through the next seasons of their business.

I take great care of the process around searching for new providers in the technology space with a commitment to understanding and addressing the unique needs of each client, I specialize in delivering IT solutions that not only meet technical demands but also foster long-term partnerships.

My approach combines technical expertise with a relationship-first mindset, ensuring that clients feel supported and understood at every stage of their IT journey.

I work collaboratively to design and implement technology strategies that enhance productivity, boost security, and drive sustainable growth. By prioritizing open communication, trust, and shared goals..

Specialties:
• Client-Centric IT Strategy Development
• Building & Maintaining Trusted Partnerships
• Cloud Services & IT Infrastructure
• Cybersecurity Solutions
• Long-Term IT Roadmap Planning
